RECENT WORKS

One of my favourite hobbies of mine is baking, and at one point I considered working at a bakery for a living. However, I have made peace with the fact that I'd much rather have baking and cooking as a hobby rather than a profession. I baked this lemon loaf and paired it with rosemary, cream, and strawberries as I just wanted to see how it tasted. You can find more images captured of my day-to-day life in my Blog section linked below.

I made this piece on Illustrator for my Digital Graphics Adobe Illustrator Final. I was inspired by the styles of cartoons from my childhood such as Kim Possible, and even some old Disney movies. I decided to make her a witch and accompanied her with a pumpkin cauldron, bats, fire, and a shelf full of potions. You can commission an illustration or story on my Services page, as linked below.

FAQs

What is your refund policy in case of unforeseen circumstances or dissatisfaction with the final product?

Answer: I stand behind the quality of work I put out and aim to provide a positive experience for every client. If, for any reason, you're not satisfied with the final product or if unforeseen circumstances arise, I am open to discussing potential solutions, including refunds or alternative arrangements. My goal is to ensure that you're completely satisfied with the outcome of your project, and I will do whatever it takes to make it right.

What happens if I'm not satisfied with the final design or illustration?

Answer: Your satisfaction is the top priority. In the rare event that you're not completely satisfied with the final product, I offer a revision process to address any concerns or changes you may have. I will work closely with you to make adjustments until we achieve a design or illustration that meets your expectations.

What measures do you have in place if there are errors or issues with the final deliverables?

Answer: While I strive for perfection in every project, I understand that mistakes can occasionally occur. If there are errors or issues with the final deliverables, I am committed to resolving them promptly and professionally. Whether it's a typographical error in a branding asset or a technical glitch in an illustration file, I will take full responsibility and work to rectify the situation to your satisfaction.
